

2015 SUMMER FOOD PROGRAM BEGINS

Efforts to meet the growing problem of food insecurity in the community are getting a boost with an expansion of the program that brings free lunches and snacks to area children when school is out. Forty-eight non-profit organizations and local recreation centers in Winnebago and Boone Counties will be participating in Summer Food Service Program (SFSP), up from 38 last year. SFSP sites offer nutritious lunches and snacks to children ages 18 and under as part of their summer programming.

Summer Food sites are either in close proximity to a school where over 50% of the children are eligible for receive free/reduced lunch, or the sites serve a group of children where most of them are from low-income families. In the Rockford School District alone, 83 percent of the nearly 29,000 students qualify for free or reduced meal prices. Nationally, more than 21 million children rely on free and reduced priced meals provided by the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs during the school year, but only 3.8 million participate in USDA's summer meal programs, now in its 40th year.

The Summer Food Service Program is operated nationally by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), administered by the Illinois State Board of Education, and managed locally by the City of Rockford Human Services Department, a Community Action Agency. The lunches and snacks are provided by Lifescape Community Services of Rockford.
